ABOUT US

THE ASSOCIATION OF CLASSICAL CHRISTIAN SCHOOLS (ACCS) was founded in 1994 to advance Christian culture and lead a classical Christian renewal within the Church. Since that time, we have provided hope and support for Christian families that seek a transformative Christian education without cultural compromise. We serve all credential-granting classical Christian schools in the Protestant tradition, including online, pod, collaborative, and conventional format schools.

We now serve:

- About 450 member schools
- More than 60,000 students
- Nearly 10,000 school faculty and staff
- More than 100 new start-up schools
- Numerous schools in the process of transitioning to ACCS membership

CULTIVATING PARENT AND DONOR SUPPORT

Trusted Scholastic Leadership

ACCS HAS DEVELOPED a strong reputation after three decades of proven results. Each year, we increase the visibility and influence of our members through national research and publicity campaigns. Parents have come to expect intentional Christian community, academic excellence, and a high quality of service from ACCS schools. Our members are blessed by the strength of reputation and collaboration among like-minded believers.

500,000

unique visitors use our website annually: ClassicalChristian.org

130

families per year on average are referred to each member school through our school locator tool.

60,000

copies of The Classical Difference magazine are mailed to ACCS faculty, staff, parents, and grandparents every year.

15,000

copies of Classis and Commonplace—the journals of classical Christian education—are sent to ACCS schools every year.

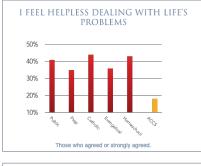

Classis challenges ACCS school administrators with the latest academic thoughts and ideas from professors, faculty, scholars, and students as we lead in recovering true, good, and beautiful education.

The Good Soil Report

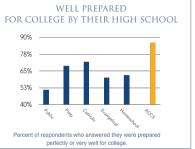

A Research Study Funded by the ACCS and Conducted by The University of Notre Dame

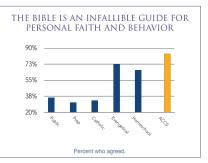

THIS COMPARATIVE STUDY of 24- to 42-yearold alumni from public, secular private, Catholic, evangelical Christian, religious homeschool, and ACCS schools confirms that our schools uniquely train, form, and graduate students committed to Christ and His Kingdom and ready for life.

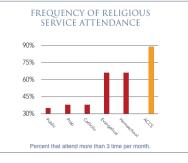

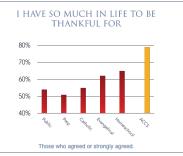

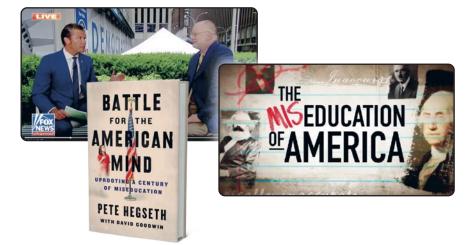

National Media

MANY LOOK TO the ACCS as the standard of excellence in Christian liberal arts education. This national presence allows us to lead in calling our society to a better, historically time-tested, and God-honoring way of education.

E LIFELONG LEARNING

THE ACCS FOSTERS and promotes patterns of lifelong learning for teachers, administrators, and school boards at our member schools. Members are encouraged to take advantage of our curriculum center, toolbox, job exchange center, sponsor discounts, and benefits offered by ACCS partners through the Member Resource Center.
